Monthly Networking Meeting this Monday!

September 13, 2010. 5:30-7:30pm

Charles Martin Youth Center.

Topic: Hidden Rules at Work

Sponsored by Society of Human Resource Managers (SHRM)

Hidden Rules Defined: Hidden rules are unspoken cues and habits of a group. They come from the environment in which we are raised, and they help us intelligently navigate our world. Everyone has hidden rules; everyone breaks them. We know the wider the range of rules you have, the more choices you have.

Questions to Consider:

What are the hidden rules at your workplace?

When have you broken a hidden rule?

What did you do to adjust?

Other topics:

When have you felt like an insider at work? An outsider?

Name three things you have on your resume.

How do you express frustration to a supervisor?
